7. Series No: 65: WAQI !AT – E- AZFARI: edited by T. Chandrasekharan.

the Waqi !at –e Azfari now before the reader, is an off-short of the genius of Muhammad Zahiruddin Ali Bakht – Azfari Gurgani. The author happens to be a great grand son of Nawab Iffat Ara Begum, grand daughter of the emperor Aurangzeb.

In this book Azfari has given a detailed account of his travels * thrown light on the internal conditions in the Fort of Delhi. The Composition began after 1211 A.H. & ended with the events of 1221 A.H.

The book constitutes a very important study in history & geography. It brings to light certain momentous event of the reign of Emperor Shah Alam, which are not found in other historical works. A peep into his volume gives insight into the extent of demoralization of the Moghul Empire at that time. The administration was completely disorganized, lawlessness prevailed everywhere. The Destruction caused by Gulam Qadir Rohila, the Arrangements for the accommodation of the Princes in the Fort & the nature of offices, the significance of ! Royal Prison ! & so on & so forth are described in the book.

The author has also described the strange things he had seen & the manners & customs & beliefs of the people he came across in the course of his travels after the flight from Delhi... lastly letters written to him by eminent nobles, Nawabs & Rajas have been reproduced; these documents give a correct idea of the form & style of literary composition & letter writing prevalent at the time..] Madras, 1957. 11. Series No: CXLIII: NUSKHAJAT – E – MUJARRAB. Critically edited with notes & Introduction by Alhaj Dr. Syed Niamathulla Sahib.

Nuskhajāt –e- Mujarrab. is a very valuable work containing the best Unani MEDICAL recipes. The Author has gathered all these recipes from several books on Unani Medicine from the personal diaries of different Hakeems & Doctors, Who had prescribed them for the contemporary Kings, Nawabs & Rulers & had found them very useful among the Hakeems we find also such as those who lived in Carnatic and won great fame & reputation; viz Hakeem Ahmadullah Khan & Hakkem Baqir Husain Khan Raiq...

This book is based on a single paper Mss. described under D. No: 663 available in the Govt. Oriental Mss. Library Madras. It contains 164 pages with 19 line on a page and is written in Persian Script. Madras, 1959. Royal Size. Pp 375, xxvi. Rs. 1000/-

12. Series No: CLII: TUHFAH – E – KHANI: critically edited with notes & introduction by Alhaj Meer Tufail Ahmed Sahib.

Valuable work of Muhammed Bin Muhammed Abdullah bin Obaidullah bin mohammad. Controversial as the date of the writings of the work is it may safely be presented that it was written after 910 A.H. the book is in Persian but the language need not be a deterrent. Those who are interested in MEDICINE will find this work highly useful in matters concerning diagnosis, details of treatment, and other relevant features. Comprehensive in its scope, analytical in spirit, the work contains very helpful instructions to the Medical practitioners. As a matter of fact, our author is so Catholic in his outlook that he stresses the important of imbibing & assimilating all that is good in other systems of treatment. After reading this work, a careful reader will realize that the UNANI system is mis-understood & misconstrued. The fault is not in the system. It is in those who are not well – conversant with it & yet practise it & those who have not studied it & yet be in little it... Madras, 1959. royal size. Pp 540, xxxvii. Persian text. Rs. 1500/-

13. Series No: CLXXV: TARIKH – E – HAFIZULLAH KHANI; edited by Syed Muhammad Fazlullah Sahib. This book is based on a single paper MSS described under D.
